BOTANICA COLLECTION

Botanica is a plant/bijoux collection,
each piece is a real plant gold or silver plated
with an ancestral technique made in Colombia.
Each piece is unique and brings with it the remedy of every plant.

This collection is an ode to nature,
The beautiful irregularities of natural elements are magnified by precious metals, leaves, flowers, woods, stones and other organic elements are galvanized, first in a bath of copper and then plated in a bath of 4 microns of 24K gold or 1000 sterling silver, and is nickel free.
The color plaiting may change with time making the plating magical and unique.

The ingredients of this collection are species cultivated or spontaneously grown in Colombia, with many properties and spiritual remedies.
It's like a modern "Expedición Botánica", which let you travel with your mind around landscapes, cultures and myths.

La Réal Expedición Botánica del Nuevo Reino de Granada took place between 1783 and 1816 in the territories of New Granada, covering present-day Colombia, Ecuador, Panama, Venezuela, Peru and northern Brazil.
The project was approved in by King Charles III of Spain, and was headed by José Celestino Mutis, a Spanish priest.

A team of botanists, geographers, painters and collectors explored the wonderful Flora of South America and catalogued their discoveries in the famous and numerous volumes of "Flora de la Réal Expedición Botánica del Nuevo Reino de Granada".

REMEDIES

ORQUÍDEA

PHALAENOPSIS EQUESTRIS + CATTLEYA TRIANAE

Aztecs commonly mixed vanilla, a type of orchid, with chocolate to create an elixir that brought on power and strength. Orchids are emblem of beauty, elegance and hedonism, they are always given as precious gift. The Cattleya is endemic to Colombia where it was nominated as the national flower in November 1936. They leave at altitudes between 1.000 and 3.000 meters and they can survive up to then 100 years.

CHOCHOS

ADENANTHERA PAVONINA

Is commonly called Red Lucky Seed or Love Beans. The beauty of the seeds has led to them being used as beads for jewellery. They are also used to weigh gold, silver and diamonds, because they have a narrow range in weight. The plant is a source of dyestuffs. The dye has been used for dyeing clothes, and is used by the Hindus of India for the sacred mark placed on the forehead.

ACACIA /MIMOSA

Certain species of ACACIA that produce pink or yellow puffy flowers are commonly called MIMOSA. Mimosa can be used to show that you wish to “expand” your life. Spirituality and expansion.

ARUCARIA

ARAUCARIA EXCELSA

This plant is also called STAR PINE due to its symmetrical star shape. Is believed to protect against evil spirit and hunger. Protection. The Star Pine is traditionally used for ornamental purposes is also an antiviral and anti-inflammatory.

RODAMONTE

ESCALLONIA MYRTILLOIDES

The tree has an ornamental quality due to its distinctive crown shape. Queen Flower.

HIEDRA MEXICANA

HAEDERA HELIX

It symbolises eternal life (because the plant is evergreen). In ancient Egypt ivy was dedicated to Osiris, who represented immortality. In ancient Greece was the plant of Dionysus because of its vigour. During long winters with little light, the Headera Helix in the home offered a spark of hope that spring would come again.

REMEDIES

SEMILLAS PAJARITO
CROTALARIA AGATIFLORA

“Canary bird bush” The common names refer to the flowers' resemblance to small birds perched on twigs. Seeds are eaten raw to act as an analgesic to deaden the pain of a scorpion sting. The powdered seeds, mixed with milk, are eaten in order to increase body strength.

OJO DE BUEY
MUCUNA URENS

The beautiful seeds of Mucuna urens, also known as “Ojo de Buey” in Colombia, are use as talisman in traditional ornaments. The buckeye is a powerful good luck charm, with special powers, You can reach into your pocket and rub it or twirl it between your fingers for good luck.

STONES FROM SANTA MARTA RIVER

The clean river that descends from the Sierra into the Caribbean sea is spectacular. The contrast between river and sea is a wonderful phenomenon like two friends meeting up as one current pushes the other. It's almost impossible to see where the river ends and the sea begins, as the sweet water melts into the sea. The stones of the river are amulets, an ancestral souvenir of a magical place.

ARVEJA
PISUM SATIVUM

The symbolic meanings of Pisum sativum, peas, is “Thank you for a lovely time” with gratitude and loyalty.

RUSCO
RUSCUS HYPOGLOSSUM

Almost all the parts of this plant are used for medicinal purposes. Simbolyze kindness, humility, and is hugely popular in wedding.
